FOLLY TO NURSE A GROUCH

Writer Makes Some Remarks That Are Worth a Few Moments of Reflection.

What a dissatisfied bunch of mortals we are! Three hundred and sixty-five days of each year we grumble about the weather. It's either too hot or too cold, too wet or too dry. You meet a friend who says, "It's a fine day today!" You answer, "Delightful!" The next one you meet says, "Ain't this beastly weather?" You answer, "The foulest ever!" You're always ready to agree with and join the kicker. Even the poor innocent weather cannot escape your hammer. Everything in this world was made wrong—except yourself, I mean; you are the quintessence of perfection in your own mind! When you're invited to a party, you are mad because you are invited, and if you are ignored you're mad again just because that condition fits your disposition. Why don't you, for a change, look at the bright side of things and maybe your "disgustion" will improve.—Zim, in Cartoons Magazine.

TROUBLES OF HIS OWN

Sister—Now, Willie, I don't want you to come into the parlor this evening when Cholly calls.

Willie—Don't worry, sis, I have a date with a little skirt meself dis evening.

IMPRESSION OF REAL TOIL.

"Why don't you quit work and go fishing?"

"I tried that once," replied Mr. Restagin. "If getting up at five o'clock in the morning and traveling out to a fishing place and falling into a boat and maybe out of it, and sitting in suspense by the hour in order to land a two-ounce fish are what you call rest and recreation, give me work."

BUSY MAN.

"Judging from the important way Dubson rushes around, he must have a tremendous amount of responsibility on his shoulders," said Twobble.

"Quite so," replied Scadson, in a slightly sarcastic tone. "I understand his wife intrusts him with a great many errands."

NOTHING GRATIS.

"You can't get something for nothing in this life."

"That's right," replied the gloomy citizen. "If I want even a few kind words about my disposition and some hope of a future success I've got to go to a fortune teller and pay for them."

THE CASE STATED.

"That artist at the zoo objects to the hippopotamus because the lines of its figure are not more delicate and graceful."

"Now, that's what I call being hippo-critical."

CAREFULLY PREPARED.

"Does your husband make a report to you of how he employs all his time?"

"Yes. But he censors it."

PAW KNEW THE ANSWER.

Little Lemuel—What is fame, paw?

Paw—Fame, son, is a high ladder with grease on each rung.

SURE.

"There is no use talking, you can't beat a bad egg."

"Oh, I don't know, whenever I smell a bad egg I beat it."

THE KIND.

Lawyer—You claim to have a degree. Where did you get it?

Witness—From the police. They gave me the third.

KANSAS WOMAN GIVES VALUABLE EVIDENCE

Testifies She Was Relieved of Catarrhal Troubles In Short Time by Master Tanlac.

"I have suffered many years with catarrh," states Mrs. F. E. Barrott, of 111 East Lewis street, Wichita, Kansas. "My head, nose and throat gave me much trouble, and in the last few months the catarrh had gone to my stomach. This latest trouble had caused me no end of discomfort and unpleasantness, such as indigestion, soreness and gas in my upper and lower bowels.

"I saw where so many people were taking Tanlac, and with such wonderful results. I thought if the medicine could do so much good to other people, maybe it can help me. I purchased three bottles of Tanlac, and can say that it was the best money I ever spent in my life. I could not believe that such a change would come over one's condition as that which came over mine.

"I don't suffer at all with my stomach. My digestion is good, the soreness and gas conditions are completely gone. My catarrhal troubles have disappeared entirely, and I gladly recommend Tanlac to my friends who suffer as I did."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, is highly recommended for such ailments as those which Mrs. Barrott was afflicted with, and is proving a great up-builder for thousands of people who let their systems run down. Tanlac acts as a tonic in many ways, and at this particular time of the year should prove most beneficial to many in Lexington and vicinity.

Tanlac can be secured in Lexington at the Crenshaw & Young's Drug Store.
